Renewal Ranch Horses Are Decked Out for Holiday Parties

Renewal Ranch is the Coolest New Venue for Holiday Celebrations

November 21, 2007 – Phoenix, AZ – Groups and businesses which have not yet booked a venue for their Holiday Parties are in for a treat this year. Renewal Ranch of Arizona has announced that there are still openings in the schedule for holiday parties and events.

Renewal Ranch is a division of Change Agents, Inc., Arizona's leading corporate and personal change management organization. The Ranch is a popular place for team-building activities and for leadership training with the staff of Change Agents. President, Gayla Hodges says, "The use of Equine Assisted Learning in building team synergy and helping people assess and improve their leadership skills using our Natural Effectiveness™ philosophy makes the whole process more tangible and more fun."

Renewal Ranch is located on Northern Avenue in Glendale. As a venue for Holiday parties, the ranch offers a large grassy "picnic" area and a fire pit for cozy conversation and group sharing. The opportunity to interact with the horses, as well, offers both fun and a chance to build a team as part of the entertainment of the event. Change Agents coaches can be booked to work with teams as well.

No matter how large or small the group, Renewal Ranch offers the coolest new venue for holiday parties. The cost of using the Ranch is comparable with other similar venues, and groups can use caterers who often do events at the Ranch or their own caterers.

The Horses, the ranch, and the staff are decked out for holiday parties. The Horses love to party with visitors and hope to have their entire schedule booked quickly.
